

Ideals of U. S. Interpreted in London Speech

Secretary Hughes Explains Convincingly Part United States Could Be Expected to Take in European Affairs—American Contribution by Unofficial Participation Only Feasible Method.

Lays Stress on Dawes Plan

Method "Opens Path of Confidence and Prosperity," He Tells Pilgrims—Viewpoints on European Nations Different on Each Side of Atlantic—America Has Own Traditions.

(By the Associated Press.)
London, July 21.—Charles Evans Hughes, the American secretary of state, whom the Prince of Wales referred to as visiting England "inognito," delivered an eloquent and forceful speech as president of the American Bar association at the Pilgrims dinner to-night, interpreting American ideals and explaining convincingly the part the United States could be expected to take in European affairs.
The dominant note of the secretary's address was that America's devotion to the cause of peace could be counted upon, as well as America's purpose to co-operate with Great Britain and others in every way congenial with American institutions in the interest of peace.
For the economic rehabilitation of Europe, dependence could be put on American assistance," and, added the secretary, "it does not matter that this aid is not given by the government."
He lays stress on the Dawes plan and the participation of American expert with the liberty of constructive effort, and declared: "We believe that the Dawes plan opens the path of confidence and prosperity. For that reason we are deeply interested in its prompt introduction."

Mr. Hughes explained that any attempt to make America's contribution a governmental matter would have meant hopeless debate and no adequate action. The dominant sentiment in the United States he was sure, was absolutely opposed to commitment which would promise action by congress in unknown contingencies.

Private Help More Satisfactory.

The American secretary of state spoke before one of the most distinguished gatherings of men prominent in the public life of England and America that has ever assembled in London, and his words were enthusiastically heard by 400 members of the Pilgrims and their guests, tributes to Mr. Hughes were paid by the Duke of Connaught, who presided, and the Earl of Balfour, who said that the secretary had provided a new understanding between Great Britain and the country across the Atlantic, its people, and government.

Mr. Hughes was seated at the center of the banqueting board between the American ambassador, Frank B. Kellogg, and the Prince of Wales.

American assistance in necessary measures for the economic rehabilitation of Europe may be counted upon, Mr. Hughes said.
"It does not matter that this aid is not given by the government," Mr. Hughes continued, "I may give it my conviction that had we attempted to make America's contribution to the present plan of adjustment a governmental matter we should have been involved in a hopeless debate and there would have been no adequate action."

"We should have been beset with demands, objections, and instructions. This is not the way to make an American contribution to economic revival."

"You have the Dawes plan and you have had the participation of American experts with the liberty of constructive effort which was essential because it was undertaken in the only way in which success was possible. When you deal with economic rehabilitation you doubtless have in mind such contribution as America is able to give. But that is not the whole of it. It is the absolutely essential fact."

Explanations for Private Aid.
The important, indeed indispensable, thing is that methods should be contrived and that your disposition should be such, that assistance of that sort can be rendered.

"All discussions will be futile unless the arrangements ultimately made satisfy the investing public. We appreciate the difficulties, but we believe that the Dawes plan opens the path of confidence and prosperity. For that reason we are deeply interested in its prompt introduction."
My confidence that a way will be found to surmount all the existing difficulties lies in the fact that failure would invite chaos. There is no gain to anyone in that. On the other hand going forward with reasonable measures to put the plan into effect gives hope to all."

The American secretary undertakes to explain the reasons that compel the United States to make its aid a private matter and go through governmental action. The American government has no official position, American finance speaks for American investors who do not look to the government for other advice or security," and American philanthropy, needed the government support.

These are the potent forces of America which do not wait for political action," Mr. Hughes added. There are the uncontrolled arms of helpfulness which do not depend on the government's reactions of government. "It must be quite apparent to you."

SHEPPARD NOW AIDS WORK OF LA FOLLETTE

Head of Conductors' Brotherhood Takes Charge of Chicago Headquarters—Cooperates With Jewell

AFTER RAIL VOTES

Charles McGowan of A. F. of L. Named Assistant—Latter Order Expected to Support Wisconsin Senator

Chicago, July 21.—L. E. Sheppard of Cedar Rapids, Ia., president of the Order of Railway Conductors, arrived today to assume charge of a national headquarters of the railroad brotherhoods' campaign in behalf of Senator La Follette.

Virtually the entire efforts of the brotherhoods in the campaign will be directed through Mr. Sheppard, according to present plans.

Mr. Sheppard's work under present plans, will be coordinated with that of Bert M. Jewell, head of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor, who expects to maintain a campaign headquarters in Washington. It was explained today by Representative John M. Nelson of Wisconsin, national manager of the La Follette campaign following his return from Washington, that Mr. Sheppard would direct primarily the work of getting votes among the railroad workers for the La Follette ticket, which Mr. Jewell's activities and such other cooperation as may be offered by the American Federation of Labor will be in the direction of the campaign for congress and the state office.

Charles McGowan Named Assistant.

Assisting Mr. Sheppard in the Chicago headquarters will be Charles McGowan, national vice president of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor. The alliance of the officers of the railway employees department with the La Follette campaign has encouraged in many quarters the suggestion brought back from Washington by observers of the recent conference there that the American Federation of Labor will eventually declare for the support of the La Follette ticket.

While this suggestion has no official confirmation, it is pointed out that the officers of an organization, affiliated with the federation would be rendering themselves subject to disciplinary by the parent organization should their political activities encourage the disapproval of the national organization.

La Follette supporters throughout the middle west were outspoken today in their predictions that high officers of the federations soon would align their support formally behind the candidacy of the Wisconsin senator and his colleague and running mate from Montana.

At any rate, it is now planned by the La Follette managers that railroad labor shall have an important part in the campaign.

G. O. P. WILL APPEAL TO NATION, NOT SECTIONS

Washington, July 21.—Intention of Republican leaders to conduct a nationwide rather than a sectional campaign in behalf of Coolidge and Dawes was announced here tonight by William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee.
"We do not propose to seek support in one section of the country through concentrated and obvious efforts, and to try to gain it in another by silence and evasion," Mr. Butler said in a statement issued at the headquarters of the national committee after a day of conference.

The statement added that "the suggestion that the campaign must be centered here or there to secure success, or that we must bombard any particular state or group of states can come only from political parties or candidates that lack national appeal and viewpoint."

USE BLOCK AND FALL AT FUNERAL OF HEAVY WOMAN

Ansonia, Conn., July 21.—Mrs. Catherine Bryant, 49, whose funeral was held here yesterday, weighed in excess of 600 pounds and was buried in a casket weighing 420 pounds, the largest ever used in the state, according to the undertaker who supervised the burial.

The woman's death occurred on the third story of a dwelling and a block and fall was used in lowering the casket from the rooms.
Mrs. Bryant's death, physicians say, was caused by her increasing weight, on account of which she has been unable to leave her home for three years.

BONUS BUREAU MEN DENIED

Albany, July 21.—Three employees of the state bonus bureau were discharged today when it was found they had been "inched in" on the pay check of Saturday but apparently had forgotten to "touch out" when quitting for the day. The bonus commission learned the men never had been at work and that the check had been punched for them on the day in question. Later it was announced that the persons who punched the check for the absentees would also be dismissed if their identity is ascertained. The names of the men dismissed were not made public.

Beats Market

Arthur W. Cullen has made another big "killing" in the Chicago grain pit. This time he took nearly $2,000,000 profit when he sold July corn at $1.10. But unlike most of those who "clean up," Cullen is not of the "frantic trader" type. He doesn't even go on the floor of the pit, always preferring to remain in a front chair in his brokers' public room while the trading is going on. Cullen is a real "dirt farmer" owning 800 acres of land just west of Chicago.

SHIPS CRASH IN FOG; FOUR DEAD

Passenger Boat, Boston, Leaking Badly—All on Board Taken Off

Newport, R. I., July 21.—The loss of four passengers in a collision between the passenger liner Boston of Eastern Steamships Boston-New York service, and S. S. Swift Arrow, oil tanker, two and one-half miles southeast of Point Judith in the fog early today was reported in a radiogram.
It was stated that all the other passengers, who may number from 100 to 200, were taken off the stricken ship. The Boston was without lights, and without steam, and unable to use her signal whistle.

Although the first message said that the Princeton, a Fall River liner, was involved, later messages established the identity of the vessel that rammed the Boston as the Swift Arrow, bound for San Francisco from San Pedro, Calif.

It was stated that the Boston was leaking badly, and that the Swift Arrow was standing by waiting for help.
The messages containing word of the loss of four lives indicated that they were passengers on the Boston. The naval tug Teal, Itall and Hoboken were sent out from here, and the coast guard cutter Acushnet was sent from a station in waters nearby.

LUIS ANGEL FIRPO PERMITTED TO LAND

Argentine Heavyweight and Friend Held Up Because of Passport Trouble

New York, July 21.—Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine heavyweight, who arrived in the United States today on board the American Legion to fulfill an engagement to meet Harry Wills, negro challenger, was admitted to the country as a "visitor" by immigration authorities after having been detained at Ellis Island in connection with other members of his retinue, and Miss Bianca Lourdes, who says she is a friend of the South American heavyweight but not one of his party. Firpo and Miss Lourdes were committed to Ellis Island after failing to satisfy the immigration officials aboard the liner concerning the visas on their passports. Eduardo Carboni, listed as Firpo's secretary, and Miguel Ferrara, a sporting partner, were detained because of "immigration violations."

Later Firpo was released following a sitting of a special board of immigration inquiry appointed to review his case but Miss Lourdes was held until tomorrow when, immigration officials said, she would be liberated upon deposit of a $500 bond, guaranteeing her appearance on board the next boat for Cuba, for which her ticket reads.

GRAIN FIRM TO OFFER PROPERTY TO FARMERS

Minneapolis, Minn., July 21.—The offer today of 25 leading grain firms of the northwest to sell 1,652 country elevators, 22 Minneapolis terminals, and 12 Duluth terminals to the American Farm Bureau Federation will be formally submitted to the directors of the new $25,000,000 Grain Sales Corporation Wednesday at Chicago.

The proposal of the elevator elevator companies, which contemplate turning over the entire holdings of the largest and most prominent grain firms in the northwest to the farm organization, can not be considered as work, according to word received here from Chicago, as it was a non-profit cooperative association.

INTER-ALLIED CONFAB WAITS FOR BANKERS

Upon Their Reception of Report of Defaults and Sanctions Depends Further Action on Dawes Plan

"HOPEFUL ANXIETY"

Many Safeguards Surround Proposed Loan—American Member Would Be Included on Reparations Committee

London, July 21.—Upon the reception which world financiers accord the report of the committee on defaults and sanctions, for the first time officially published today, will depend further developments in the inter-allied conference, which is seeking to launch the Dawes plan and to solve the problem of German reparations.

This was the view expressed by careful observers after it was learned that the financial delegates to the conference had a prolonged meeting this afternoon with Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, and Thomas Lamont, representing the firm of J. P. Morgan and Company, of New York.

Meanwhile, the atmosphere about the conference continues one of "hopeful anxiety." There are no grounds for pessimism, but clearly the note of optimism must come from the financiers who are to advance a loan of 40,000,000 pounds to Germany with which to finance the Dawes plan. As the committee reports, now available to bankers, set forth safeguards to surround this loan, the bankers themselves must be the judge of their sufficiency.

The text of the report of the committee on defaults and sanctions already carried in these dispatches. It is provided that the reparations commission, enlarged to include an American member, shall be the sole judge as to whether Germany has made a default under the Dawes plan. This report, which it is proposed to incorporate into a protocol, further provides that in any contingency, including both default and reparation, the committee shall have the right to suspend the loan.

The proposed German loan shall have a priority claim on all of Germany's state assets. The provision is made that the American member of the reparations commission shall be appointed by that commission within 30 days after adoption of the protocol.

Name America for Five Years.
"In the event of the reparations commission not being unanimous," says the text, "the appointment shall be made for the time being by the president of the permanent court of international justice at the Hague."

"The person appointed shall hold office for five years, and may be re-appointed. In the event of any vacancy the same procedure shall apply to the appointment of his successor."

"Provided always that if the United States is officially represented by a delegate on the commission, any American citizen appointed under the foregoing provisions shall cease to be a member of the commission, and no fresh appointments under these provisions shall be made so long as the United States is so officially represented."

In the event the reparations commission adjudges Germany in default, the governments interested must confer at once on the nature of the sanctions to be applied, and the "method of their rapid and effective application."

During the currency of the loan, the allied powers agree not to apply sanctions unless the reparations commission declares the default, after taking the opinion of the agent general for reparation payments and the representative of the foreign bond holders.

All the old existing rights of the signatory powers under the treaty of Versailles in conjunction with the reparations commission shall be maintained.

NINE PRISONERS ELUDE SEACHERS

Complete Delivery of Jail Prevented by One of Remaining Men Giving Alarm

Malone, July 21.—An all-day search for nine prisoners who escaped from the Franklin county jail here early this morning had brought no results up to tonight.
A complete delivery was prevented by one of the remaining prisoners, who pounded on an iron door which he wrenched Sheriff Innitzer, one of the fugitives were arrested by the malone police, and the other two are being held in the county jail. The prisoners escaped through a 12-inch space in the grating on the third floor, dropped 12 feet to the ground, and ran off in the direction of the rear of the building, and vanished before the sheriff could reach the scene of the break.

Sanity Admitted—Crowe

Pleas Show This, He Says—Youths Go Back to Cells Joking and Speculating on Size of Headlines Papers Will Give Story—Victim's Father Wants Death Penalty—Court Stirred.

(By the Associated Press.)

Chicago, July 21.—The fate of Richard Loeb and Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., kidnapers and slayers of 13-year-old Robert Franks, was today placed in the hands of one man—John Caverly, chief justice of the criminal court of Cook county—when they pleaded guilty.

Apparently the only question remaining to be decided is whether they shall hang or be imprisoned for a double crime without parallel in this jurisdiction.

Robert E. Crowe, state attorney, reiterated his intention of asking the death penalty for the two college students.

Clarence S. Darrow and Benjamin Bachrach, attorneys for the defense, announced in court their purpose to see their clients "safely incarcerated for life."

"We have no intention of trying to restore them to society," explained Mr. Darrow.

Thus he answered a question which had been widely discussed since the killing—whether the combined wealth of two of the oldest and richest families of Chicago, estimated to have resources of more than $10,000,000, would be used to try to set free their two minor sons.

"Guilty Plea Admits Sanity."
The unexpected announcement stirred a court room crowd of attorneys, newspapermen, court attaches, and a few privileged spectators, and upset all plans for a trial which had been scheduled to begin August 4.

That the defense was content to await the developments from this hearing was emphasized by the stony silence that was maintained by all concerned with the defendants. The boys themselves, their parents, special counsel of the families, and the active defense attorneys all declined to discuss the proceedings. The prosecution was a bit more communicative.

"The plea of guilty admits the sanity of the defendants," said Mr. Crowe tonight. "The question of insanity is entirely out of the case now. All the defense can offer at the hearing is evidence tending to mitigate the punishment. Whether they can establish that remains to be seen."

Crowe Says Plea Admits All.
"I am going to ask the death penalty in the interest of society. I have about 75 witnesses and will present all the facts in the possession of the state so that the court may be fully advised as to the exact nature of the crime. It will take from 10 days to two weeks to do this."

In their statement to the court today, the defense attorneys acknowledged the correctness of the facts in the case "substantially as published in the newspapers." By this they admitted formally that their clients on May 21 entered Robert Franks into a rented automobile, stunned him with a blow from a tape-wound chisel and strangled him to death. They thus admitted, too, that the body was conveyed to a lonely spot across the Indiana line and there thrust, nude, into a small culvert under a railroad track. They formally acknowledged that the two men destroyed the clothing of their victim, posted a letter demanding $10,000 ransom from the boys' father, and tossed into a park lagoon the typewriter on which the missive was written.

The defense offered to submit the case on a statement of facts by the state. They also asked that attorneys employed by the state and defense confer and "iron out differences," but again the prosecutor objected.

Prisoners Laugh and Joke.
"There could be no object in such a proceeding unless these boys were pleading both insane and guilty," he said, "but if they are pleading insanity, the state wishes a hearing on that question before a jury."

The defense explained that their only object was to prevent the case from becoming a "vaudeville show," but Judge Caverly held that he had no power under Illinois law to order such a conference.

Jacob Franks, father of the victim, was outspoken in his denunciation of this phase of the case.
"This talk of insanity is nonsense," he said, "if ever there was a case deserving the death penalty, this is one. There is some satisfaction, of course, in their plea of guilty, as that will save much time."

The prospect of a death sentence even after they had been warned of its possibility by Judge Caverly, did not noticeably move Loeb and Leopold. They went back to their cells laughing and talking eagerly and speculating about the size of the headlines their sudden change of front would inspire.

MUCH BONUS MAIL REMAINS UNOPENED

60,000 Applications Checked, But About 20,000 of These Defective

Albany, July 21.—Veterans of the World war who applied weeks ago for their state bonus need not be at all alarmed if they have not yet had acknowledgment of their applications, Captain Frank S. Harris, head of the bonus bureau of the adjutant general's office, declared in a statement yesterday that many applications received during the first rush of business in the bureau have not yet been opened for examination.
About 400,000 of the 522,000 eligible in the state have applied for their bonus, according to Captain Harris. Of this number, 11,000 have been acknowledged. Employees of the bureau have checked 60,000 applications, and have found 20,000 of these to be defective in one way or another.

REDS WIN HARD TUGGLE.

Message to Niece One Ahead of Giants in One of Most Difficult Victories of Year. Cincinnati, July 21. — Cincinnati won one of the hardest fought battles of the season from New York today, 6 to 5, in 11 innings. Watson was knocked out of the box in the first round, but Neph pitched well and Louche allowed a tie score in the seventh without a hit on his wildness and an error by Gritz. In the ninth New York scored three runs off May, but the Reds tied it in their half on four hits, two passes and a triple by Bannister. In the 11th, the Giants scored a run on Frick's triple and a single by Kelly, the first time they had been scored on in 24 innings. In the last half of the 11th, Koush reached third on a pass, a ball by Jonnard, and an out. With two out, Kelly took his foot off the bag before receiving Jackson's throw on Fonessa's grounder, which would have retired the side without scoring. The error allowed Koush to score the tying run and then Pinelli put Fonessa over with a triple to right. Thirty-nine players took part in the game, the Reds using 20 and the Giants 12.

Giants Present Game to Glens Falls Yesterday Afternoon—Oneonta Goes on Error Campaign in Sixth and Eighth—Some Teams at Stamford Today—Return Here Wednesday.

With the game tied up in a neat little package with a silk ribbon, the Oneonta Giants presented the Glens Falls team with the contest yesterday on a silver platter. Nothing could have more effectively executed the losing of the ball game, had it followed a preconceived plan of strategy. It was one of the most errorful games ever seen in the history of the game, and the score was 2 to 2. There were a couple of fine fielding plays staged, but there was hidden behind the screen of the miscues. Eckstein and Sinstack each got three hits out of four tries, two of the former's being doubles, as was one of the latter's blows. Scanlon got two out of three, and the home team one apiece, this being all of the hitting done by the locals. This totals just 19 hits, an exact duplicate of the total of safeties obtained by the visitors.

Oneonta had 11 men left on bases and Glens Falls six, but then again Glens Falls men who got left on base in that game must have been asleep somewhere along the line. The home club scored first and got three runs while they were at it. These came in the second when, with one down, Eckstein poked out his first double, scoring on a single by Scanlon. Wilson hit to third, who heaved wild to second to get Scanlon and two men were safe. Sinstack punched out a single, scoring Scanlon and putting Wilson on third, whence he scored on Walsh's sacrifice fly to center. Faye was passed and Fitch grounded.

A detailed story of the manufacture of runs by the visiting club is too painful to put forth in detail. Suffice it to say that they got two scores of the three-run kind back in the third and completely wiped out the deficit in the fourth. In the sixth they put over three more runs and in the eighth their final one. It was in the sixth and eighth that the home club went on an erring rampage. The same clubs will cross bats again this afternoon in Stamford and will return to this city on Wednesday.

RADIO NOTES

Town and county fairs of New York state, how they began, how they developed, what must be done in some cases to clean them up, will be the subject of a radio talk by R. H. Wheeler of the New York State College of Agriculture on Monday, July 22, at 7:15 p. m., eastern standard time, from station WGY, Schenectady. The importance of town and county fairs in an agricultural state is fully recognized, and Mr. Wheeler has been engaged in developing better fairs for some years in connection with his work at the State college.

As a special service to New York state farmers in the marketing of lettuce, one of their most perishable crops, WGY is broadcasting daily, except Sunday, a special report on the farm movement of lettuce. This report will be prepared by the New York State Department of Farm and Markets and will inform the farmer daily of the bulk of lettuce shipments being made. The report will be on the air at 11:45 a. m. and will follow the weather forecast.

Entire Boston Outfield Swears by Buick Car

This is the outfield of the Boston Red Sox baseball team of the American league—all 300 hitters and as many as 300. Each one of them, Bob each, Ira Flaggstead and John Collins, the Buick cars. What a team that New York infield and Boston outfield would make! And as for pitchers, there could be selected from Buick owners such premier twirlers as George Latus of the Tigers, Sam Jones of the Yankees, Sylvester Johnson of the Tigers, Bill Sherrell of the Cardinals, and Clarence MacNeil of the Phillies. For a catcher we present no less than the king of them all, Hank Severid, of the St. Louis Browns.

BY HARRY B. HUNT

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Corn and

hogs can win the election.

That is the dictum of keen-minded political gentlemen who are watching with interest the steadily mounting quotations on the above farm products. In them is seen much more than a mere market report; even much more than an index of at least temporarily returning agricultural prosperity.

For as a factor of real importance in the coming campaign, more potent than the fact that

William Jennings Bryan will compete for the Democratic ticket or that Charles Dawes helped win the war, $16 hogs and $1 corn may be the most persuasive of all arguments to millions of voters.

Tariff and taxation are abstruse, involved issues at best. But corn and hogs?

There's something definite, tangible, readily visualized and easily understood.

It is the steadily strengthening market for these staple farm products an entirely natural and normal process or is it being engineered by artificial stimulation, for political purposes?

That is a question that is being studied closely by economists in both the Democratic and Independent camps.

There is an underlying suspicion that just as the farmer was "deluded" by orders from Washington following the last election, he is now being "induced" on instructions from the same source.

The theory, of course, is that strong subsidies and better prices through the next five months may make it possible to hold in the repulsion until the normally repulsion agricultural vote, which has been threatening to run amok.

Improving prices for farm products, whether actually or artificially stimulated, inevitably give aid to the Outlook campaign.

HAYING HARVEST IN EARNEST

Plenty of Work for Vicinity Men as Wages from $1.00 to $1.75, With Average at $1.50—Delhi Notes.

Delhi, July 21.—The haying harvest is in full swing now and is giving temporary employment to a number of men hereabouts. Some from as far away as Oneonta are working on the Meridale farms job, where there is a large acreage of grass. Report is that only $4.50 per day, without board, is paid there. The average wages, however, seems to be about $5 with board and in Ravina some are paying from $6 to $7, with board, for good men.

Steen Completes Fifty Years.

Aaron Steen, who last week completed 50 years of business life in Delhi, holds the longest record of any man now in business here. He came here July 14, 1874, from Oneonta, where he had been in school and later in business, having lived there two and a half years. He is one of

ODDLY enough, coincident with the upward trend in corn and hogs, comes an announcement of reduced prices on a long line of staples, from calicoes to corn shreders, which big mail order houses supply to farm buyers.

That, Democrats and Independents alike insist, looks suspicious! Something wrong somewhere, a better investigation! So they do.

Result: They find it's been a cold wet spring. Farmers were late getting plowing and planting done and crop generally is delayed.

Probably will be under normal in yield. Therefore the mounting corn prices.

Early pigs didn't thrive during unseasonable spring. Ills of pig industry multiplied and death rate increased. Fewer pigs, more valuable. Also, remaining pigs must be fed higher priced corn. Higher pig prices imperative.

On the reverse side, the declining prices on what the farmer buys, the trail leads back to the weather again.

Late, backward spring. Result:

light buying. Merchants and dealers overstocked. Prices slashed in order to move stocks before fall.

That's as far as the "investigations" have gotten to date.

And while the skeptics are seeking around trying to scent some thing rotten in Denmark, not yet willing to accept the situation as what it is, the Republican machine bravely give their explanation. Which is:

"Coincidence!"

There are certain factors in the situation is. With the farmer, this year, most according to Haber's. If he does, then corn and hogs give Coincidence an advantage.

But with both Jones and Democrats set on keeping Coincidence from "bugging" the vote, there's a real fight ahead anyway.

MT. UTSAYANTHA TOWER

Has Been Much Improved and the Highway Leading Up the Mountain in Condition for Motor Traffic.

Mt. Utsayantha at Stamford is undoubtedly one of the most interesting places in Delaware county and no visit to the mountain resort is complete without a trip to its summit where a marvelous view of the country may be secured.

The following from a recent issue of the Mirror-Recorder tells of the many improvements made to the tower and to the highway leading to the summit of the famous peak and will be of interest:

The tower house on Mt. Utsayantha now has a telephone. It has a lot of other new features. Carpenters and mechanics have been working there for several weeks getting the place in readiness for what promises to be a record-breaking season. The big building on the mountain top, in its new coat of white, stands out prominently against the blue sky and a general air of prosperity surrounds it.

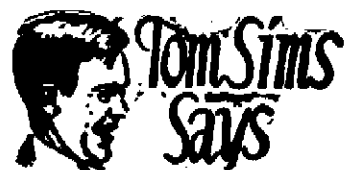

The road leading from Main street to the summit has recently been put in good condition for automobile traffic and more work on the road is contemplated. The first week the tower house was open for business 52 automobiles climbed the grade and the names of 145 visitors were registered. Among those who visited the mountain top was the general manager of the General Electric company of Schenectady, who expressed his delight at the wonderful view 3,365 feet up which spreads away on all sides, unobstructed, over 30,000 square miles, revealing some 300 mountain peaks of the Catskills, Berkshires, and Green Mountains. This official congratulated the village on its good fortune in having such a wonderful asset and as easily accessible.

Manager Warren makes the trip daily up the mountain in his car, and frequently makes three trips, each of which requires about 15 minutes. At the tower house the visitor may climb to the top of the structure for the wonderful view. Lunches and refreshments may be had and souvenirs obtained.

Entrance to the tower road is just west of the Cold Spring Farm Inn. No vacation spent in Stamford, however short, is complete without a trip up the mountain. Many natives have made the trip this season who haven't been up on the mountain in fifteen years or more. They seek enthusiasm of the work going on up there. Sunrise, sunset, and moonlight parties are going to be a feature of the mountain activities this season. Proprietors who wish to give their guests "something different" and something that will leave a favorable and lasting impression of Stamford, may have overlooked one of the village's biggest assets—Mt. Utsayantha.

A stay over night on the mountain top, especially during a thunder storm, will furnish more thrills than any other diversion east of the Rockies, and when the sun comes out, the distant Berkshires, then it is that adjectives stand out in all their naked helplessness and the visitor may be enrolled as a permanent resident. Then it is that delight and enthusiasm crave action. Then it is that our city visitors cry aloud their one last wish. It is that they might get the mountain house to stay at, or, if friend out of bed to tell him, or her, or them in a glowing vocal perspective, about the Stamford brand of sunrise as viewed from the tip top of one of the highest peaks in the Catskills.

With the telephone installed they can now do that very thing and if the listener seems peeved or lacks enthusiasm you can call him or tell him anything suitable to the occasion—and hang up. That's the last word in telephone convenience isn't it?

One drawback to living at home is you can't throw your cigar ash on the floor in the lobby!

Be careful about looking at their homelies in July. It is not polite to cuss before ladies!

When you see a man standing on the corner scratching his head, how he enjoyed his vacation!

Next to the water cooler and bathtub, the soda fountain is our most popular summer resort.

A mad bride tells us she shares her joys and sorrows, she taking the joys and giving her the sorrows!

The good die young. Just as soon as home-made wine begins to get good its owner kills it!

All a sign needs to know about a woman is all he doesn't know.

A family at odds soon comes to odds and ends!

When you see a tree torn down, these days you never know if it was lightning or an auto!

This world could be twice as hot as it is. The seasons on Mars are twice as long as ours!

A candidate with springs attached has his little drawbacks!

Little boys live a hard life. One tells us his big sister, however, is no better off!

About the only way to keep the ants out of your picnic lunch is to let them eat it!

A neighborhood tells us he got three gallons of beans and six chickens out of only one pig!

Children are given in the name of doing all kinds of things!

Some people have to have "fun" every day. Others like it, because they keep the fun from getting away!

Radio in summer broadcast! It's the only way to keep the fun from getting away!

By the way, a lot of money was made there last night. It was the best of all!

THIS WOMAN'S MARVELLOUS RECOVERY

All Due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Truman, Minn.—"I was badly run-down, had pains in my side and back; sometimes I could hardly move around in bed. My husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after taking it I was so much better I could do all my work again. I do my housework, have a garden, raise chickens, and in harvest time I worked in the field and helped pick corn. Sometimes I do chores and milk. I took the Vegetable Compound before and after my four-months-old baby was born, and it has always helped me wonderfully. I believe there is no better medicine made for women, and I hope every woman will give it a fair trial."—Mrs. AUGUST R. WIEDERHOF, R. No. 2, Box 84, Truman, Minn.

CURRENT COMMENT

A few days ago The Star ventured to say that the one thing which has most attracted the attention of the daily press is the weather. A recent statement by George Ade confirms the former assertion. "If we could get a shorthand report on any selected day," says Mr. Ade, of all the conversation of all the people everywhere we would learn that our neighbors are not talking about the incredible increase in the price of marks, or Lloyd George training for a return bout. They do not take their cues from editorial writers. They are excited over nothing much except the weather."

This matter is again referred to because within a short time the Farm Bureau, cooperating with the weather bureau of state and nation, are now sending via the telephone, weather forecasts for from one to four days ahead, to everybody who asks them. There are no less than six places from which this information can be obtained in Otsego county, and the list of places was printed in these columns on Thursday last. Therefore, if there is any one who wants to know quicker and further ahead than the newspapers are printing, the thing is for him to call up the nearest of the weather forecasting stations in the county, between the hours of 11 and 3 on any week day. For the list reference is made to The Star of July 17.

A former German general, now a banker in Berlin, has arrived in the United States, where he is deploring the financial condition of his own country and stating that the real need of that country, for its economic restoration, is the ability to secure foreign loans at a normal interest rate. With this, he says, the Fatherland could soon be on its feet again, and take its place among the great nations of the world. The one great difficulty in the matter seems to be the distrust which is felt in banking quarters the world over, unquestionably increased by the failure of Germany, not merely to pay but even to undertake to pay what she owes in the matter of reparations; also by its astutely engineered policy making the mark a vehicle for swindling the people of other lands to the tune of billions. In the eyes of the world, Germany is a bankrupt. The banker will lend money to her at a "normal rate of interest" so long as she makes no attempt to clear herself of that odium.

Apologies of weather forecasting, referred to above, a clergyman in Syracuse is said to combine probabilities, church appeal and genuine thrift in fair proportions. Being certain that if the skies are fair and the roads good many of his parishioners will incline to a day out of doors, he studies the meteorological reports. If the indications are that the weather will be good enough for church but not for golf or motoring, publicity through the press is limited and no special effort made to increase attendance, since the building will be filled anyway. But if stormy or very fine weather is the prospect, special announcements of sermon and attractive music are made and every means used to increase attendance. The same plan is said to be used for Wednesday evening prayer meetings; and on the supposition that the general mood of the membership varies with the barometer, the pastor tries to provide sermons to fit the weather.

THE GUIDE POST—BY Henry and Tertius VanDykePersonal Troubles and Prayers for Others

The Lord turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends.
—Job 42:11.

There is nothing so common as a sincere concern for other people. Most of the prisons in which men find themselves locked up are built in part by themselves.

If you really desire spiritual liberty, pray for your friends.

The charter of personal liberty belongs to the man whose life is given to his friends.

He that loveth his life shall lose it.

The man whose universe centers about himself must always be a slave. Altruism is not disinterested egotism in the purely selfish sense.

But will we take it?

The youth becomes preoccupied with his own sensations and frictions.

He deals with other people only for their effect upon himself. Little by little life shuts him in. All suddenly he hears the iron door close to him and the bolts make it fast. The old man thunders life away from him.

He will dwell alone with memory. His shell hardens over him. He suddenly finds the very breath of life cut off.

There is no peace that way.

Our lives can only be free when they are concerned with our friends.

The end of many troubles comes when we step out of the prison of self and find spiritual liberation in earnest prayer for our friends.

Have you tried it lately?

THINGS TALKED ABOUT

The Next President.

Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Davis are both candidates for President. They are the only candidates for President. Mr. LaFollette is not a candidate for President. He is aiming at two objects: to deadlock the election of 1924 and to found a new party for 1928. The world sees little to be gained and much to be lost by precipitating the country into several months of protracted bitterness and who-pulling-while-a-congress-already-politically-dead tries to choose a President. And as for a new party in 1928, it may come or it may not. The question can be decided better in the four years after the election than in the next three months.

The LaFollette protest ought to be expressed in American politics. It can be expressed only through the election of congressmen and senators. For Mr. LaFollette cannot be the next President of the United States. The question for his sympathizers to decide is whether they wish the next President to be Mr. Coolidge or Mr. Davis. That is the actual choice which every voter will find himself compelled to face before election day. —New York World.

Americanization.

The public schools are by far the best agency through which Americanization can be conducted and there is satisfaction in noting that they are alive to their responsibility in the matter. The announcement of Dr. J. George Reicht, state superintendent of public instruction, that 40 cities and boroughs of Pennsylvania have arranged to organize Americanization classes in the schools during the coming scholastic year and the emphasis which he lays on the importance of appropriations in the school budgets to take care of this work show appreciation of the situation. —Pittsburgh Post.

Chances of LaFollette.

According to a Boston financial writer, bankers from the northwestern part of the country are attending a meeting of the board of governors of the Investment Bankers' association, held in private conversation that LaFollette had a good chance of carrying Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and probably Iowa. Whether they took wheat prices into consideration is not apparent. Senator Wheeler evidently thinks LaFollette's chance good in Montana also, or he would not have jumped on the LaFollette band wagon. —Springfield Republican.

The Pistol Menace.

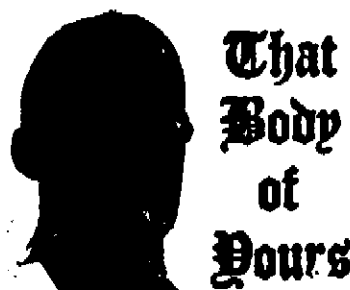

The International Association of Chiefs of Police, now in session in Montreal, is wrestling with a problem which must soon have the serious attention of the constituted authorities of all communities, large and small, in this country. The ready revolver has become a menace that must be speedily checked. —Philadelphia Record.

If Jefferson Was a Delegate.

If Thomas Jefferson was a delegate at the Democratic convention from a unit state he would probably revise that clause of the Declaration of Independence about all men being created "free and equal, and endowed with certain inalienable rights" etc. —Connellsville Courier.

Illuminating.

The promptness with which the Bryan family allows its words about Davis when Brother Charles is nominated for vice president is rather illuminating of the innermost feelings of the whole tribe. —Beaver Times.

THE SUDDEN PAIN.

You may sometime get a sudden pain in the region of the heart, and you have to hold yourself in the one position or the pain becomes much worse.

Your doctor explains to you that there is no heart trouble and likewise that there is no gas in the stomach pressing up against the heart. Perhaps the pain is on the other side of the chest and you bend over to that side to relieve the pain. It looks very much like pleurisy. Perhaps the pain strikes you in the lower part of the back, and you have to remain quiet to allay the pain.

Sometimes the pain is between the shoulder blades, or even in the back of the neck. You see you are not really sick.

Now what is the matter? Well, just as you can have a pain in the nerves and have neuralgia, so also you can have a pain in the muscles which is called myalgia.

It was formerly called muscular rheumatism, because so many people with rheumatism of joints also had this rheumatism of pain in the muscles.

And the cause? Usually exposure to wet or cold besides the other conditions which cause the ordinary rheumatism. That is bad teeth, bad tonsils, or constipation.

This exposure simply gives these things a better chance to get busy. Your own resisting powers are partly paralyzed as it were by the cold and dampness.

And so if you are subject to any of these muscular pains let your family physician look you over and try and locate the cause.

However, you are in the midst of an attack, the pain is severe, and you want to know what to do.

Stay home, get the best rest possible, and try and induce a good sweat. Heat to the part seems to help the circulation, and usually cures the pain.

When the pain is persistent, heat or even heavy massage is helpful.

You see the pain is not a joint where manipulation might hurt you. It is right in the muscles, or in the little nerves supplying the muscles, so that the heat and massage are sure to help.

Remember though the clearing of the throat, and the free sweating will be your principal treatment.

No opium should be used in these cases.

The crushed fruits with fruit syrup and ice cream at Marsh's drug store are delicious and are becoming very popular. Nothing of the kind has before been served in Oneonta.

Morris Lunn, a graduate of the Otsego Normal, has been hired to take charge of Kilkenny's new school for the coming year. He comes well recommended and we are hoping for a good school. —Garrettsville correspondent.

S. C. Miller left yesterday for New York and Washington and tomorrow M. G. Keenan and George Lewis leave for New York. On Wednesday the trio will leave on the Tautonic for the other side. While away they will visit London, Paris, Antwerp, Cologne and other places.

It will be necessary for both Y. M. C. A. Secretary Merritt and his assistant to be absent from the village on the excursion on Saturday, hence all patrons of the bath department are requested to secure baths today or tomorrow, as the rooms will be closed on Saturday.

Successful on Stage.

Miss Mildred Short, daughter of Mrs. H. J. Short of Schenectady, but formerly of Oneonta, is making rapid progress on the American stage. She started with the Shubert production, "Topics of 1923," being later asked to join "Sancho Panza," in which Otis Skinner is starring, having shown unusual dramatic ability. Miss Short is known in theatrical circles as Miss Mildred Gordon, which is a family name. She is under contract with the Shubert organization.

her role with it September 1, making an extensive trip to the coast. Miss Short has studied vocally and dramatically under the most eminent professors in New York city and Boston, Mass. She is contemplating, according to her friends, of doing a picture soon.

Asks for Alimony.

In the divorce action instituted by John W. Stickle of the town of Richfield, against his wife, Gertrude B. Stickle, the defendant appeared before Justice Kellogg on Saturday on a motion for alimony and counsel fees pending the outcome of the case. Wendell Brown of Brown & Brown appeared for the defendant; and Garret Robinson and William S. Eaton for the plaintiff. The plaintiff was given 15 days in which to file and serve further affidavits and the defendant was also given privilege of filing additional affidavits within 15 days.

Held for Indemnified Driving.

Joseph Eric of Tiddsville was held for the next grand jury in bail of $100 yesterday morning by Justice Ferguson of Binghamton Center, following his arraignment on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. Eric waived an examination of witnesses and the bail was procured.

It will be remembered that the car which Eric was driving turned over in front of the store at Binghamton Center Sunday afternoon after he had caused considerable commotion along the highway.

GARRATTSVILLE AUTO STOLEN

Buick Roadster of Floyd Salisbury of That Village Taken From Garage Sunday Afternoon.

New Lisbon, July 21. — A 1914 four cylinder Buick roadster was stolen from the garage of John G. Gregory at Garrettsville Sunday afternoon at about 3 o'clock and state troopers who were notified have been conducting an investigation which thus far has been fruitless. However, it is thought that the car was traced as far as Stamford, and the state troopers are continuing the investigation.

The car was the property of Floyd Salisbury who was staying at the Gregory home, the parental home of his wife, and was one which he had but recently purchased second-hand and placed in running condition.

Suspicion has been directed toward a young man of about 20 years who had formerly lived in New Lisbon and who had been visiting for some time in the vicinity and even at the Gregory home. The report of the theft was made to the Otsego police department which has been investigating.

Suspicion is also directed toward two other men in a Stutz roadster who had been seen lurking about the premises and doubtless they will be questioned if apprehended.

The car bore a New York state license for 1924, number 667-935, and the motor number is C-6671.

The family had been away for several hours Sunday afternoon and some of the neighbors, hearing a strange noise about the premises, went to investigate. They found the garage doors broken from the hinges, an electric light wire broken, and the car gone.

East Branch-Downsville Highway.

Paul Schultz, first deputy commissioner of highways, has notified Delaware county highway officials that the entire distance between East Branch and Downsville will be let in one contract, which has necessitated some delay in the division engineer's office, and it will probably be several weeks before these bids are advertised.

The service will be made interesting with personal testimonials, songs, and instrumental numbers.

FOLKS FROM 56 COUNTIES

Attend Farmers' Week Gathering at State College of Agriculture Now First Tabulated.

All but six of the 63 counties in the state were represented at the annual Farmers' Week of the New York State College of Agriculture at Ithaca, February 11-16. Summaries which have just been completed show that 3563 persons came from all over the state. The county attendance varied all the way from two each from Queens and Saratoga counties to 1432 from Tompkins county.

Otsego county sent a delegation of 16 to this affair. Delaware sent 22 and Chenango 24. Seventy-two were registered from other states, and five from foreign countries, including England and Norway. Registration at Farmers' week has held up even throughout the present agricultural depression, showing how the farmers of the state value this annual event. Plans are already under way for next year's work, to be held February 9-14, 1925, with hopes for a continuation of the successes of previous years.

LOCAL MENTION

Participants in the city tennis tournament should remember to play off their sets before Wednesday evening.

The regular weekly baby clinic will be held at the Community house this afternoon from 3 until 5. Dr. Hume will be the attending physician.

The Senior Twilight Baseball league will open this evening at Nehalem park at 8 o'clock with a game between the Y. M. C. A. and Hume's Boys' shop.

The new traffic signal under construction for the corner of Main and Chestnut streets is nearly completed and it is hoped that it may be placed in operation some time this week.

The Giants will appear in Stamford uniforms today, opposing Larry Doyle's Glens Falls team. Yesterday's game at Nehalem park demonstrated that Larry has a very strong outfit and today's game with Mr. Utsey's should be a hot one.

The suggestion of more general signaling to traffic officers in the city as to the turns which it is desired to make as noted in The Star of Monday proved quite helpful, especially to Officer Crouch stationed at the corner of Main and Chestnut streets who said yesterday "Let's hope the good work continues."

The ambulance which was out on an emergency case last evening nearly met with a collision in front of the post office when the driver of a truck pulled out right in its path. Officer Otto who was driving was forced over on the wrong side of the street. The attention of motorists is again directed to the rights of an ambulance.

BENEFIT COMPANY G BAND.

Concert and Dance at Pine Lake on Saturday Evening Next.

To assist in raising funds for Company G band with which to purchase new uniforms, which the boys much desire to secure, by special arrangement recently effected by Dan Sherman and A. B. Webster, Company G band will play for a concert and dance to be given at Pine Lake, (formerly Sherman lake), on Saturday evening, next. It is hoped to make this a monster benefit and all friends of the organization are invited to attend and assist in making it a success and giving the needed encouragement to them.

Mr. Sherman has also made a proposal to the band management to take them out for a short tour around this section as a concert band and with the reputation gained at the State fair last year and the concerts the band always gives when announced in this city, it is believed that they would be able to net a goodly sum. It is expected that if the members can arrange to take their vacations at a certain time, that the proposal will be accepted and the tour made.

Mr. Sherman is to manage Tom Brown's Thirty Sixpence band the coming season and with his wide experience in the management of traveling companies it is believed that he will be able to assist them in making the tour a notable success.

Saturday night everybody is invited to meet the boys at Pine Lake and listen to the concert and enjoy the fine dance music they always render.

J. B. WALSH WITH QUARTET

Local Singer Replacing Cox in National Male Quartet.

The vacancy in the National Male Quartet, caused by the illness of H. Charles Cox, which developed following the concert at the Chautauqua Saturday evening, will be filled, at least temporarily, by James B. Walsh, one of Oneonta's best known bass singers. Mr. Walsh left yesterday for Cobleskill to join the quartet.

Mr. Walsh has delighted Oneonta audiences for several years past. He is a prominent member of the Elks' Glee club and has had a leading part in the various productions staged by that organization. Mr. Walsh has a deep and pure voice and, although not possessed of the diversified talent of Mr. Cox, will make a worthy substitute for him as far as singing itself is concerned.

It was reported at the Fox Memorial hospital last evening that Mr. Cox is making a very satisfactory recovery from the operation for acute appendicitis which he underwent Sunday evening.

Playground Desc.

Following is the schedule for the balance of the week in the Playground Baseball league:

ATHLETICS HERE FRIDAY

Connie Mack to Bring His Philadelphia American League Club Here to Play Ray Thomas' Oneonta Glens.

The greatest baseball attraction offered to fans in this part of New York state will be the game at Nehalem park on Friday between the Oneonta Glens and Connie Mack's Philadelphia American League team and by the way tickets are going packed stands are assured. Manager Thomas will put his strongest team in the field, including one or two new players now under consideration, and will make a strenuous bid for victory. Connie Mack, who will appear here in person, has written Thomas that he will send his regular lineup to Oneonta.

Although Philadelphia is in the cellar position in the American league the team has a collection of embryo stars and sport writers are predicting that Connie Mack's outfit will be heard from in the very near future. The Athletics will arrive during the morning and will be entertained at noon at luncheon at the Elks' club by the association. All fans are invited to attend this luncheon and meet Mack and his players. Tickets for the luncheon, which have been priced at $1 each, are on sale at the same places as the pastboards for the game. They should be purchased by Wednesday that the association may know for how many to prepare.

PAVING JOB COMPLETED

Public Works Commission Expected to Effect Settlement Tonight.

At the meeting of the board of public works held last evening the matter of making a settlement with the McDonald Construction company, was taken up, the paving job having been completed. City Engineer Gurney reporting upon the amount of the work done and the extra done at the request of the city. No solution was presented relative to the improvement of Chestnut street extension for the trolley tracks and the paving thereon, and the matter is still in the hands of City Attorney F. C. Huntington and Owen C. Becker. The former said he was of the opinion that the board could obtain the money with which to pay the contractors for the work on that street and that later the legislature could be asked to legalize the acts of the board and thereafter the bonds for that improvement could be issued.

The necessary bond as required by the contract for the up keep of the paving job for a five-year period was not completed, although Mr. McDonald stated that it would be filed within 24 hours. Commissioner Halsey suggested that before the paving job is finally accepted and payment made that some work smoothing off projections on the face of the granite curb should be made in order that no harm be done to automobile tires which chance to rub against the curb. It is hoped that Chairman Baker will be able to effect an agreement with Mr. McDonald to do this work in places where the projections are most pronounced and that a settlement may be made for all work except the Chestnut street improvement at an adjourned meeting to be held this evening at 7 o'clock. It is hoped that all members will be prompt and certain financial backing will be necessary. It is a paving job, please don't inquire. Mine Foundry Corp., Hudson Edg., Schenectady, N. Y. advt 11

LAWLESSNESS

Frank Dixon Starts Chautauque Audience With Frank Discussion of Vital Problem

Noted Lecturer Discusses Problem of Administration of Criminal Justice, Highlighting Present System and Suggesting Improvements—Lecturer Synopses Quaint Pictures at Afternoon Session.

Today's Program.

10:00 a. m.—Art Craft demonstration. Prelude by Edna White Trumpeters.
11:30 p. m.—Dr. Theyl Hatten will speak on "Awakened China."
8:00 p. m.—Prelude by Edna White Trumpeters. "Give and Take," comedy.

Doubtless many who heard Frank Dixon's scathing arraignment of the present day administration of criminal justice at last evening's Chautauque session felt the attack was in some measure unjustified, that conditions are not so bad as he depicted them and that the remedies which he suggested are impractical and illusory while others agree absolutely with his statements, sweeping though many of them were. It is certain, however, that his address reached the brain of everyone of his hearers, stimulating thought processes to a consideration of a vital present day problem. In other words, Mr. Dixon "registered" and hence fulfilled his mission on the platform and the mission of the Chautauque which brought him here.

Mr. Dixon does not indulge in platitudes—merely expressing in other words, perennial lecture platform thoughts—neither is he the type of speaker who works his audience up to an emotional pitch by clever use of oratorical tricks and then shoves his ideas down the throats of his hearers, blinded to reason by the dazzle of his golden phrases. Mr. Dixon wastes no time with forensic legend and plunges at once into his subject, discussing it dispassionately and logically but withal forcefully.

The United States is the most lawless nation on earth, declared Mr. Dixon. It has more laws than all the rest of the nations put together and it breaks these laws with impunity. The number of crimes committed in this city is greater by many times than the number committed in cities of the same size in foreign countries. Citizens of law abiding countries emigrate to the United States and immediately become part of the lawless element.

The reason for this appalling condition he declared to be our administration of criminal justice, which he called one of the scandals of our civilization.

There is something in democracy which stimulates crime, Mr. Dixon declared. A democracy is always close to anarchy and democratic people, being responsible only to themselves, are apt to lose respect for the laws which they have made.

Better Lawyers Needed.

The speaker advanced four reforms necessary to check the crime wave and teach respect for law and order. In the first place, he said, men who enter it for mercenary purposes, we condemn our ministers and priests to their holy vocations, and we should consecrate our lawyers, for the lawyer's function is a holy one, as well. He stands in the place of God Almighty in the courts of our justice. There are lawyers in every community, honest, upright, just men of unimpeachable character, who are carrying the burden of our unique civilization upon their shoulders. But there are also men in the legal profession, who, for a five dollar fee, could be hired to commit any crime under heaven. There is no criminal on the face of the earth as dangerous as a dishonest lawyer.

England Improves Her Laws.

"We borrowed the text of our criminal procedure from England 150 years ago. England went on improving her laws, but we still have the machinery we borrowed a century and a half ago, just as we borrowed it. The methods are antiquated and ineffective. The law has taken no effective measures to better conditions, and I repeat, we must hold our lawyers responsible for the administration of criminal justice by men of the highest type and noblest conceptions of the profession.

"The second reform should be the lifting of the administration of criminal justice out of the power of money. Under present conditions the government supplies a salaried man to prosecute, a court house in which the trial is held, and a judge who acts as a sort of referee. The criminal, if he be a man of wealth, can hire a flock of lawyers, a crew of assistants, a company of experts, and enough attorneys to acquit him ten times over. If a man has the money to play the game he can defeat our justice system every single time.

Refers to Teapot Dome.

"For instance—recently there has come before the public the case of several very wealthy men who have been indicted in the case of oil leases. Teapot Dome may recall the incident to your minds. The government had its remedy. It could have been made to appear in court ten days after the indictments. But the case was postponed, it will be reappealed. It will be postponed and put off and delayed out. I doubt if it comes up for trial during our generation. It makes our justice a travesty!

"In England the impeachment of a jury is a matter of a few moments. If a man has formed an opinion, but can revise it, he is eligible for jury duty. But not in this country, for that might simply elaborate method of procedure, and if there is anything we do not want, it is simplification.

"Technicalities, postponements, delays, made possible in the hands of our legal procedure, are gradations. And they are all bought by money.

How to Get Justice.

"We have a prosecuting attorney representing the state against the accused and paid by public money. We ought to have a defending attorney to represent the accused against the state, and make it impossible for him to receive one dollar from private sources. Then we would have justice, and speedy justice.

The third reform would be the placing of a convicted man under the

LICENSE YOUR DOGS

Owners of Animals Have Only Month in July in Which to Secure Tags—Delinquents Liable to $10 Fine.

Owners of dogs in the city of Oneonta are reminded that they must secure licenses and tags for their pets during the month of July or render themselves liable to a fine of $10 and to the loss of the license. License may be secured at the office of the city clerk in the Municipal building during office hours which are from 9 a. m. until noon and from 2 to 5 p. m.

The fees for dogs are: male, $2.00; female, $1.00; and spayed female, $2.00. A list of dog owners was prepared during the month of June for the city and it showed nearly 500 dogs harbored. Thus far only about 200 licenses have been issued, which shows that many will experience the embarrassment and trouble, to say nothing of expense, unless the licenses be secured during the remainder of this month.

The regulations of the law regarding the licensing of dogs are very strict. Every dog must wear a tag of the current dog year, which ends on June 30 or he is not protected under the law and no action can be maintained for his injury or destruction. An unlicensed dog may be seized and killed, and his being without a tag is presumptive evidence that he is unlicensed.

Women's Voters League Meeting.

Mrs. Livingston Farrand, district leader, and Miss Shepard, secretary of the state organization, met a few Oneonta ladies at the Woman's club yesterday morning to present the aims of the Women's Voters League. While the number of invitations was limited, still there was an enthusiastic gathering and much interest was manifested in the organization.

The Women's Voters league is designed for all women who are interested in civic conditions, and while it is non-partisan, still it is never neutral. The visiting ladies are addressing gatherings in many of the cities throughout this district of the state to stimulate a wider interest in the organization.

Pony Hero Saved From Disgrace

His world's greatest pony hero, has not been forgotten in his time of need. His five owners, members of a rescue party that freed him from his prison in the New mine near Howell, Ind., a year ago, succeeded in borrowing enough money to pay his board bill just before he was to have been sold at auction to satisfy the debt. For four days the warmth of his body kept his human companions alive at the bottom of the shaft after they had been imprisoned by a fall of earth.

DEATH OF MRS. WM. WELSH

Esteemed Unadilla Woman Passes Away at Home, Following Brief Illness.

Unadilla, July 21. — The community was deeply shocked Saturday on learning of the death of Mrs. William Welsh, which occurred at about 10 o'clock that morning. Mrs. Welsh, 62 years of age, had been suffering from a long illness, death resulting from acute indigestion. She had several times previously suffered similar attacks. Her illness began about 11 o'clock the preceding night and she called her physician, Dr. F. S. Holmer, who gave her remedies which she expected would relieve her. Mr. Welsh, who is a Pullman conductor on the Erie, running between Binghamton and Chicago, came home on the 5:30 morning train, found his wife suffering intensely and called the doctor again. All remedies failed.

Marianna Agnes Russ Welsh was born at Russellville and was the daughter of John Scott Russ and Nancy Agnes (MacClain) Russ. Before coming to Unadilla she had resided since infancy in Albany and in Union Hill, N. J. About two years ago Mr. and Mrs. Welsh bought and remodeled their present home at the corner of Bridge and Watson streets that they might be near their only daughter, Mrs. R. O. Lewis, and family. During their short residence here the charming and attractive personality of Mrs. Welsh had won her many friends. She recognized and, also, the happier incidents of life and bore cheerfully and bravely its painful events. She was a domestic hostess, an unassuming homemaker, a most devoted wife and mother and an extremely fond of her grandson, for whom her loving deeds were untiring. On Wednesday evening last she was one of the cheeriest and most efficient hosts.

She was always happy in the enjoyment of others and in helping to make them happy. She was a member of the New York State Daughters of the Founders and Patriots of America, of Ruthford, N. J., chapter of New England Women, of the Sidney chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, a director of the Unadilla Woman's club, a member of Freedom chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, a member of the Ladies' Parish league of St. Matthew's church, and a communicant of that church. The funeral will be held Tuesday at 2:30 at the home, Rev. Yale Lyon of Binghamton, Interment in St. Matthew's cemetery.

Those who remain to miss most deeply her loving presence are her husband, William Welsh; her daughter, Mrs. R. O. Lewis; her grandson, Webb Grant Lewis; a brother, William Osborne Russ of Brooklyn; a sister, Mrs. Lena May MacClain of Albany; a niece, Mrs. Arthur Huthwaite of Brooklyn. Sincere sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

D. & H. VETERANS' OUTING

Third Annual Summer Meeting to Be Held at Cooperstown August 2—Generals and Oneonta Red Sox to Play Ball.

The third annual outing of the D. & H. Veterans association will be held at Cooperstown Saturday, August 2, and besides a large part of the 1,100 Veterans from throughout the system, an especially large delegation of the 500 members in Oneonta and vicinity are expected to be present. Special trains will be run to Cooperstown from Wickes-Barre and from Whitehall, and they will stop on signal at any station where a Veteran wishes to board the train.

Among the features planned for the day are a baseball game, a band concert, and an excursion around Oneonta lake.

In the baseball game the D. & H. Generals of Albany will oppose the Red Sox of this city with practically a D. & H. line-up, and a thrilling contest is expected. Edward T. Labor of this city, who is assisting in the arrangements, said last evening that the team from Oneonta has a fine example in previous games with the fast Generals and that he was confident that the bacon which has so long been hung in Oneonta will not be moved. It is understood that the Cherry Valley band has been secured and that they are planning a concert of the finest sort. The excursion around the lake is one which has created considerable interest on the part of many Veterans and a special price of 50 cents has been granted.

Special trains from Cooperstown will leave at 5 o'clock.

Due to the fact that the summer season is at its height at the time of the outing it has been impossible to arrange for dinners at Cooperstown, but a limited number of dinners may be had at the New Fenimore and at three of the Cooperstown churches. However, many are urged to prepare for a basket lunch.

Each Veteran is entitled to bring one dependent member of his family with him, it being necessary to limit the number of guests because of the very large membership of the organization. It is also imperative that members make reservations from the secretary, J. R. Sampson, 55 South Church street, Carbondale, Pa., immediately.

In case of unfavorable weather, arrangements have been made by which the party can be accommodated satisfactorily at Cooperstown.

JAMES E. TILLEY DEAD

Well Known Oneonta Contractor Victim of Acute Indigestion.

James E. Tilley, for the past ten years a prominent Oneonta contractor and builder, he being particularly active at the West End of this city, died suddenly at the Fox Memorial hospital following an acute attack of indigestion on Sunday evening. Mr. Tilley had been at the hospital only since Wednesday last and his death will be mourned by a wide circle of friends in this city.

Surviving Mr. Tilley are a sister, Mrs. Catherine Eldred of Laurens, and two sons, Dr. Merton E. Tilley of Schenectady and Clayton L. Tilley of New York city.

Funeral services will be held from the Methodist Episcopal church at Hyde Park Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock with burial at Hartwick Seminary cemetery.

Mr. Tilley was born at New Lisbon, September 6, 1854, and a larger part of his life was spent in that vicinity, first at Hyde Park and later at Hartwick Seminary where he engaged in the mercantile business. When first coming to Oneonta, he conducted for some time a store on Broad street.

However he later entered the contracting field and built a large number of houses on Lower Chestnut street, within the city limits. Mr. Tilley was a widely respected and admired man and his host of friends will join in expressions of sympathy to the surviving family.

For several years Mr. Tilley had made his home at 20 Valleyview street at the residence of Frank Allen.
